Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because legal phraseology "is comprised" is used in the abstract. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gileta (5,240,169), in view of Kawashima et al (6,235,208 B1).

Gileta discloses an apparatus for eliminating dross in a solder pot (18) for a soldering machine comprising a shroud (28) having a lower opening in adjacent relationship of the liquid solder in the solder pot (18), and a vacuum source (24).

Claims 1-5 differ from the disclosure of Gileta in that the apparatus has a chemical agent for separating dross into liquid solder and non-solder residue. Kawashima et al disclose a chemical agent such as de-oxidizing agent which is a mixture of a potassium salt and ammonium borohydrochloride for separating and reducing dross or solder oxides (col. 1, lines 35-49; col. 2, lines 1-15). It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a chemical agent as a de-oxidizing agent as taught by Kawashima et al in the soldering apparatus of Gileta since the de-oxidizing agent can easily remove dross or solder oxides floating on molten solder.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- Carey, II et al (5,616,424) disclose a corrosion-resistant coated metal strip.
- Carey, II et al (6,080,497) disclose a corrosion-resistant coated copper metal.
- Frei et al (5,345,056) disclose a plasma based soldering.
- Kawashima et al (6,214,218 B1) disclose a soldering apparatus and agent for separating solder and solder oxides.
